InSite Services Signs Distribution Agreement with PSIGEN

Partnership Introduces Advanced Capture Features to InSite's Service Portfolio

DALLAS, TX --- July 27, 2009 – InSite Services, a leading provider of on-demand/SaaS business process management technology services, today announced a distribution agreement with PSIGEN Software Inc., a leader in advanced capture, scanning and document management solutions.

As part of the partnership, InSite will integrate advanced capture features of PSIGEN's PSI:Capture product into InSite's web-based technology services. One primary feature will be the advanced recognition functionality of PSI:Capture that will provide InSite's clients with the ability to more effectively manage paper documents across the enterprise. InSite will leverage PSI:Capture's barcode and zonal optical character recognition technologies to automatically identify, classify, and extract information from client documents for automatic electronic routing into the appropriate business workflow process.

"We are excited about our partnership with PSIGEN and feel that PSI:Capture product features will play an increasingly important role in helping InSite provide affordable and robust web-based technology solutions to its clients," said Doug Brennecke, vice president of Technology and Client Services at InSite Services. "In situations where paper must still be used in certain parts of our clients' business processes, PSI:Capture offers a great solution to accurately and efficiently converting documentation to a digital format for electronic processing."
